

Tikrit university
College of education for humanities
English department
Listening and speaking
First year

What do you mean by public transport?

Public transport refers to the movement of people from one place to another using modes . This includes buses, trains, taxis, as well as air and sea services

What are the main documents and information do you need to travel ?

National ID card

Tickets

Passport

Travel visa

Driver's license

What are the important information do you need to travel ?

What visitors need to know before catching a bus , a train or airplane ?

Ticket prices

Ticket machines

Money (notes or coins)

Timetables

Types of services

Information officer ; someone who is responsible for giving information about travel.

Visitor ; the passenger who travels to another place

what are the main types of transportation?

1-Air Transport / airplane ,helicopter

2-Land transport / railways , train

3-Road Transport / car, motorcycles, buses, trucks, bicycles,

4- Water Transport / ship , sailboat , yacht

What is the way (type) of transportation do you prefer ? and why ?

Which mode of transport do you prefer for travelling ?why ?

I prefer plane because it is comfortable and it saves time . it is the fastest mode of transportation for long-distance travel .

Bus travel is considered four times safer than taking a train and fifty times safer than riding in a passenger vehicle

Let's learn more about the benefits of public transportation in detail:

- It is economical and Reduced Air Pollution. ...
- Preservation of Green Spaces.
- It is safe and comfortable
- Reduced Noise Pollution. ...
- More Mobility. ...

Public Transport VS Private Transport

private transport, is still the preferred choice for many people. Having your car benefits you in many ways, like in case of emergency or if you want to travel somewhere out of the route, you can easily do so in your car.

Public transport may be cheaper if you travel to the office or a university. Still, it doesn't provide you with as many perks as traveling in your vehicle, offering more comfortability, security, and flexibility.

Many people prefer public transport as it's more affordable. In contrast, some prefer private cars for their privacy, reliability, and flexibility.